The man Business Week calls "the ultimate entrepreneur for the Information Age" explains "Permission Marketing"—the groundbreaking concept that enables marketers to shape their message so that consumers will willingly accept it. Whether it is the TV commercial that breaks into our favorite program, or the telemarketing phone call that disrupts a family dinner, traditional advertising is based on the hope of snatching our attention away from whatever we are doing.

You will ignore it at your own peril. One of the biggest thrills for me was hearing my students put into use Seth's Permission Marketing phrase "Turning strangers into friends and friends into customers" -- even months after the class ended! Not only is that a testament to the clarity and brevity of Seth's ideas, it's also the distillation of his book's premise. For in today's world, we're bombarded by no less than 3,000 paid advertising messages per day.
